

How to Sign Up for the Digital Prairie Databases

Every library in Oklahoma can gain access to the Digital Prairie Databases! All you have to do is sign up online.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED:

1. Your library's IP address or range of IP addresses
2. A designated contact person

WHERE TO GO:

Signing up is convenient! Simply go to each database's registration form.

Ebsco — <http://supportforms.epnet.com/CustSupport/temp/odl.html>

Comprehensive online collections of full text articles, searchable databases and a kids-oriented service called "Searchosaurus".

SIRS Discoverer — <http://www.proquestk12.com/products/oklahoma.shtml>

SIRS Discoverer and eLibrary Elementary are designed especially for the younger reader and researcher.

Books in Print 2.0 — <http://www.bowkersupport.com/library/oklahoma.asp>

Bowker is proud to present the Beta version of the new Books in Print® 2.0, a faster and more efficient way to build collections and help your patrons find the books they need. Try it out today!

GAINING ACCESS:

After you've filled out the form, you should be contacted within a few days. You'll receive a username and password that you can hand out to your students. This username will allow them to access the databases away from school.
